

Join us for an SWCA Webinar Monday, Sept 26, 7pm ET, by Zoom

Developing Writing Center Support for Multimodal Work Across the Curriculum

Presented by Dr. Eric Mason and Dr. Logan Bearden, NSU

Many composition programs have embraced the idea of encouraging students to work across multiple modes and genres, allowing students to create everything from infographics to podcasts in addition to more conventional academic multimodal formats such as slide presentations and posters. But faculty often lack support and training for how to help students develop such projects to their full potential, and they often face resistance from those who consider such work to be less valuable than more traditional written genres. This webinar will discuss strategies for training consultants to work with students on multimodal projects and for working with faculty across disciplines to engage students in multimodal production.

FREE for all SWCA Members

FOR MORE INFO & TO REGISTER, VISIT:
<http://southeastwritingcenter.org/webinar>

Note: If, after registering, you do not receive a confirmation email, contact the SWCA DCD at swca.dcd@gmail.com.